Sonnet 18

Shall I compare thee to a day?
Thou art more and more Adjective:
Rough winds do Verb Base Form the darling flower of Month,
And lease hath all too short a date;
Sometime too the body part of heaven shines,
And often is his complexion dimm'd;
And every Adjective from same adjective sometime declines,
By chance or nature's changing course untrimm'd;
But thy eternal shall not fade,
Nor lose possession of that thou ow'st;
Nor shall brag thou wander'st in his shade,
When in eternal lines to time thou grow'st:
So long as proper Noun Plural can breathe or same body part can see,
So long lives this, and this gives life to thee.
