

History of the Cell Phone

1. Name
2. Name
3. Verb Past Tense
4. Verb Past Tense
5. Name
6. Number
7. Number
8. Number
9. Number
10. Number
11. Number
12. Number
13. Number
14. Verb Past Tense
15. Adjective
16. Adjective
17. Verb Past Tense
18. Verb Present Ends In Ing
19. Verb Present Ends In Ing
20. Verb Present Ends In Ing

History of the Cell Phone

The first cell phone call happened in 1973, several years before the first cellphone was even sold. _____ _____ made the first call on a cellular network using a Motorola DynaTac. The DynaTac was _____ by the flip-top communicator famously _____ by Captain _____ in Star Trek. It was _____ inches long and weighed 2.5 pounds. For comparison, the latest MacBook Pro weighs about _____ pounds and Apple's iPhone _____ weighs under 5 ounces. And next time you complain about battery life, remember the Motorola DynaTAC 8000X only offered _____ minutes of talk time on a full charge. The iPhone _____ offers up to _____ hours. It wasn't until 1984 that the first cellphone went on sale. It cost nearly $ _____. In its early days, the cellphone was a novelty, often reserved for the wealthy. Today, nearly _____ % of Americans own a cell phone.

Since that first call, the cellphone has undergone significant changes. They _____, starting with the _____ Nokia phones in the '90s, capable of such _____ wizardry as games of Snake.

Then came another big name in the life of Motorola: the Razr. Eventually, thanks to BlackBerry, the smartphone was _____, paving the way for the Snap _____, selfie _____
_____, video _____ mobile world we live in today.