The death of a Karen Passenger

The passengers were on the train, minding their own business. That was until a male _____ the train car. The male _____ Karen began insulting Yuma and his last name. The passengers were stunned by the male _____ Karen cruelty. Some of the passengers tried to deescalate the situation. The male _____ Karen continued to insult Yuma. Yuma eventually snapped and told the male _____ Karen to shut up. The lights in the train suddenly went out. When they turned back on, the male _____ Karen was found dead, his hands held by scissors, and the message "Bloodlust" written in blood. After the male Karen's murder, panic broke out in the train. The passengers were all suspicious of one another. The passengers accused each other of murder and argued amongst themselves. Some even suspected Yuma of the murder. Toko and Himiko were both accused of murder, but they both denied it. Monaca Towa was also a suspect, for she had been known to cause chaos. There was a lot of tension and chaos as passengers tried to figure out who the killer could be. Who is the killer, what is Monaca hiding? find out in the next episode of Thomas and Friends, Mystery Labyrinth!
