The Spirit of Christmas

This is the story of how one girl overcame her fear of Santa. Each year had been like the previous. Little

First Name of a Person would look at the Adjective Old elf with his hohoho refrain, Color suit and shiny Noun Plural, and start Verb Present ends in ING. That is usually the time Santa would direct one of his helper Elves Sherry to deal with the Adjective child. However, this time Little

Verb Base Form off girl... I've got this." Sherry paused and with a/an Adjective expression on her face watched as Little Repeat Last First Name of a Person Verb Past Tense right up to old Saint "

One Syllable Name" (A.K.A Santa), jumped up onto his Part of Body, and asked for a Adjective Noun for Christmas. You're in luck Santa said, "we have a Repeat Last Noun

Dept with my Adjective Ends in EST elves already working on it. Exclamation said Little

Repeat Last First Name of a Person why was I ever afraid of you Santa, my fear has been replaced with

State of being ex i feel." "That's just the Christmas Spirit," replied Santa.
