Dating Disasters

Ever had a/ Adjective first date where you can't believe you wasted more than five minutes with such an unbelievably Adjective person? Listen to these people recount their most memorable first-date disasters:

First Name of a Person: A guy once cooked Food with Noun Plural for me, but when he was serving it, he "accidently" spilled it all over my Adjective shirt---then suggested he eat it off of me.

First Name of a Person: I went out with this beast named First Name of a Person who showed up in an "I like big Plural Body Part and I cannot lie" T-shirt. She said that was why she was attracted to me---because my Same Body Part was so Adjective and Adjective!

First Name of a Person: I will never forget this Adjective guy named First Name of a Person. He looked like a male model---with long, Adjective hair and a pair of rock-hard Plural Body Part that he nicknamed celebrity and celebrity.
