The Monster

"WHAT IS THAT?!"; I screamed, looking up at the Adjective Colour Adjective monster that stood before me. It said nothing, just stood before me, blinking at me with its Number eyes. It was possibly the most Adjective thing I had seen in my entire life. What on earth was it doing here, in my bedroom? I had to find some way to get rid of it, before it tried to Action that can be done to a person (eg. hug, kiss) me. Looking down, I spotted my Noun on the floor, and so began poking at the monster with it, yelling, "DIE, FOUL BEAST!"; To my horror, the monster started laughing, then, it begun to Action that can be done to a person (eg. hug, kiss) me. "Will you Present tense verb me?"; it asked. "NO!"; I screamed. Then, with that, the monster began to cry, and disappeared forever. Then I woke up...
