The second strangest night this week

I know it was silly of me, but I thought bringing Luiz would be a good idea. There were five us us, including myself, and we had a 3 stage plan. First, we'd stop at a bar, then we would stop at another bar. The third phase of the plan was intended to be the natural outcome of phase one and two, and entirely unpredictable.

Phase one of the plan was underway, and going quite _____ Adjective. The women in the bar seemed very responsive to our _____ Noun and were ripe to drink as much as we were. With no _____ Plural noun in the group, the five we found was a lucky match for us. We played _____ A game drank, and lost track of time. The night didn't end there, for the love of _____ Something your respect maybe it should have.

Our newly formed _____ Noun of ten exited the bar quite _____ Adjective yet quite excited to begin phase two of our night. We found a bar, which in hindsight quite _____ Adjective looking. We must have _____ Past tense verb every drink the bartender could _____ Verb in doubles.

At this point, Luiz seemed itchy and was _____ Verb ending in ing _____ all the women. With four of them all over him, you'd think he'd be one happy _____ Noun _____. It was quite odd that he kept saying, with a _____ Noun _____ hanging from his mouth, "how much will you girls give me if I made out with Steve tonight?"; We all thought he was joking, but in very little time he yelled "I love you Steve!", but mistakenly, in his drunken stupor, he kissed Nick . Nick was suffering from double _____ Medical condition _____ and believed at the time he had just received a kiss from one of the women from the group. Tony pulled his pants off, enjoying the hilarity of the situation, but quickly found Luiz's mouth sliding up and down the _____ Noun _____ of his penis.

Thinking back, it's clear at this point that phase 3 of the event had somehow begun, because we found ourselves no longer at the bar, and I still can't recall where we actually were. I should probably assume that we ended up at one our lady-friend's houses, because one of them seemed to have access to a large assortment of _____ Noun _____ sized _____ Plural noun _____ and rubber fists. These girls were into it, whatever _____ Type of event _____ seemed to be taking place only made them more _____ State of being _____. This is where I lost conscious awareness of what was going on. I can _____ Verb _____ no more.

One

might think that such a _____ Adjective _____ night would have been quite _____ Adjective _____ but the worst of it was waking up with the five of us in a _____ Type of location _____ drenched in semen, and cuddling with 5 _____ Animal (plural) _____. Did we ever even meet any women at the bar?

That was the second most strange night I've had all week.
