Peggy's birthday letter

1.	Noun
2.	Number
3.	Plural Noun
4.	Past Tense Verb
5.	Noun
6.	First Name
7.	Noun
8.	Past Tense Verb
9.	Adjective
10.	Past Tense Verb
11.	Plural Noun
12.	Plural Noun
13.	Noun
14.	Body Part

Peggy's birthday letter

Dear Friends and Family, Today is my 55th birthday and the other day I looked in my and said, "Self, you don't look a day over Number; Plural noun don't lie.
It has been a very exciting year. In March I had an epiphany and Past tense verb my It felt so free to not have to worry about all that unruly hair. My husband said it felt like he was married to from the Three Stooges.
In May we learned we needed to move to Texas or my husband Gary would lose hisand we would be Past tense verb.

We sold our condo and left for the Lone Star State in August. Leaving	California and going to live somewhere else was veryfor me to handle and I admit IPast	a few times on the road.
On our way we stopped in Las Vegas so I could visit Margie and her to	wo Plural noun and we had a grea time visiting.
Unfortunately Gary and I lost a lot of money playingPlural noun	When will we learn.

When we got to Albuquerque I wanted to crank call the Unsers and tell them to smell mybut I chickened out.
Now we are here in San Antonio where the weather can be a bit hot at times.
We are hoping to move into our new house pretty soon and I went over there this week and the builders let me screw in a few nails so I could say I helped build the house.
My mother Lucy just turned 90 and she is still in the Armenian home with all the other old people.

y brother Dick is awaiting word on his kidney transplant. My niece Nicole is late on the rent as usual. Aa	ron ow has a masters degree in business. I am very proud of him.
nat's about it gange. I am another year old but certainly not wiser.
and about it gainger I am another year old but extramy not wiser.
ove Peg.
2025 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.	