The Campout

One SaturdaySaturday, September 14th 2008, to be exact, I was invited to celebrate my friends Sienna's th birthday. She was going toa campout. It was a very exciting day. We were going to have lots and lots of fun. I didnt know what they had planned but I knew it would be weather Of course we were going to toast A food and have A food and A food and eat sleep under the and have no bedtimeI just couldnt wait! I wasnt sure, but I was hoping they would have some games to playit really didnt matter,would be together and we would make the best of it. Plus babyis really cute. And crazy. But funny. Well the Saturday came. I was so excited!!! I finally get thereand have to wait for everyone to arrive. We some games. They were really fun. We had a three leg race. That was soooooooo much fun.
I had never done that before. Everyone was falling and laughing. Then we played 'Twister'. Such a gamewe had tons of fun doing that. We ate crawly crittersand boy were they tasty! I never knewandrirst namecould be so delicious! and we gulped those down with bug A kind of liquid mmmm, yummy! Sienna's mom even told us a scary story. It was As she told the story she actually passed around body parts! Ew! that was gross, then funny. And then we went on a haunted walk and we had a scavenger hunt. By then we were all tired, so we all got ready for bed. But noone wanted to fall asleep. Whoever fell asleep first was going to have a joke played on them. I was so tiredbut I wasnt going to be the first. Luckily, we all made it through the night, whew. Morning came and the fun started all over again. That was a party!
