

Kathy and the War

1. Location
2. Plural Noun
3. Plural Noun
4. Noun
5. Adjective
6. Past Tense Verb
7. Name Of A Person
8. Name Of A Person
9. Location
10. Adjective
11. Adjective
12. Past Tense Verb
13. Location
14. Year

Kathy and the War

A young girl lived in the Location River Valley in the mid 1750's. She was on the Plural noun of the French and Indian War. France was there to trade Plural noun with the Native Americans and Great Britain wanted the territory for agriculture. Col. George Washington was a Noun for the British and American forces. The Adjective girl, Kathy, had met him while he was traveling towards Fort Duquesne. She also met General Braddock, who later Past tense verb during the battle. After a lot of defeats for the British Name of a person Name of a person the Prime Minister of Great Britain, helped to plot against the French. He thought it would be a good idea to cut off the French supplies. Kathy then decided to help the army by becoming a nurse. She followed the army up to Canada. The army traveled up to Location where they fought one of the most Adjective battles in this war. Out on the Plains of Abraham, the British defeated the French. Kathy then followed the army up to Montreal, where the final Adjective battle of the war was fought. Shortly after the Battle of Montreal the Treaty of Paris was signed. Kathy was Past tense verb because she could go back to the Location River Valley without having to worry about the French. To keep another war from happening, Britain wrote the Proclamation of Year which said that the colonists had to keep east of the Appalachian Mountains.