

The Journey Begins

1. Plural Noun
2. Adjective
3. Noun
4. Noun
5. Adjective
6. Noun
7. Past Tense Verb
8. Verb Ending In Ing
9. Food
10. Noun
11. An Emotion
12. Number
13. Verb Ending In Ing

The Journey Begins

As she stood at the counter, gracefully counting _____ (Plural noun) noun), the new guy walked in and greeted her with a friendly _____. Her white lab lay perfectly on her _____.

Her _____ blonde hair flowed gently down her back and her bright _____ eyes seemed to sparkle in the dim pharmacy. He was _____ tense).

“Oh, so you’re the Andy that I keep hearing about. I always see you _____ in _____ing) through the chemistry building,” Malorie exclaimed.

“Oh yeah, we met at orientation! You were eating _____ and I had a big _____ on my arm.

Let’s hang out sometime.”

“Ok,” said Malorie, feeling (a _____.

After _____ weeks, Andy called Malorie to ask her out. After a few minutes of (adjective) conversation , Andy suggested that they go to (a restaurant) for a drink and she agreed. When Andy arrived on that (adjective) day, she greeted him on the porch with a smile that could light up a (noun). Little did either of them know, they _____ soon be getting (verb-past tense).

