The Adventures of the Long Lost M&M

It was a sunny friday afternoon, Dr. Bill had just gotten done working with a patient.

"Have a nice day Dr. Bill!"; Said the patient.

Dr.Bill started to close the office when he heard a noise in the waiting room. He went in the room to check it out, but nothing was there.

"I thought I heard something."; Said Dr. Bill.

Then a skittle like figure in black put a bag over his head and next thing you know Dr. Bill was in a warehouse with a light shining on him.

"We've been expecting you."; Said the skittle.

"What do you want from me??"; Dr. Bill yelled.

"We want your money from your office!"; The skittle said with a smile on his face.

Dr.

Bill had to find a way out quick or the skittles would get away with it. Good thing he took kung fu lessons from Chuck Norris and he broke through the rope and sprung into action. The skittles acted fast, they got their ninjas to fight Dr. Bill. He fought well and hard and the Noun went to their room crying. Dr Bill then tied the skittles gang together and locked them in the warehouse.

Exhausted he went home and got some rest. Knowing that he had stopped the skittles gang and saved his office.

The End.
