The Crazy Nightmare

One Month night on Holiday Eve. when I was waiting in my bed for Santa to come I just couldn't stay awake. Next thing I know I'm on Santa's lap at the mall again just like last Day of week. I told him that all I wanted from him was a new Adjective ball but then I heard a big Sound near the window. It was First name Frost trying to take over the Same store for all the ice cream in the freezer. So he could get the ice cream he froze all the Plural noun. Before everyone froze forever Santa defroze all the Plural noun and then turnned up the heat. Finally Santa through all of the Adjective balls at him to knock him out. But then First name woke up. At least I learned my lesson to never ever steal Santa's Plural food before bed time. Oh, I have to go 'cause it's time for Plural presents. Tell you some more nightmares next Holiday
