Quickly, Quietly, and Coincidentally

In a faraway kingdom a noble rich man _____ lives a happy life with his faithful wife and his beautiful daughter. _____ his wife soon falls _____ ill and dies a _____ short time after, leaving his daughter motherless. The man _____ marries again, choosing for a wife a woman with two daughters, who like their mother, had wicked and cruel hearts. When the man _____ leaves on a business trip, the stepmother and stepsisters _____ take away his daughter's fine clothes, bedroom and treat her as a servant in her own house. She's _____ forced to sleep on a straw mat by the fireplace surrounded by ashes and cinders; for this they call her "Cinderella". Not far away at the palace, the prince had _____ come of age and was _____ facing difficulty finding a suitable wife. The king _____ plans a great ball to take place at the palace, _____ inviting all the single young ladies from the kingdom where his son will be able to choose a wife. With the help of her fairy godmother, Cinderella attends the ball looking beautiful and there she _____ dances with the prince, never telling him her name. When she remembers her godmother's warning to leave the ball before midnight, she _____ runs away as fast as she can from the palace. She _____ leaves behind a single glass slipper that'll be the prince's only way to find the girl he'd _____ fallen in love with that night.
