

Friendship

1. Plural Noun
2. Verb Ending In Ing
3. Plural Noun
4. Adjective
5. Plural Noun
6. Verb
7. Verb
8. Noun
9. Verb Ending In Ing
10. Proper Noun
11. First Name
12. First Name
13. Name Of A Person
14. Name Of A Person

Friendship

Friendship is a term used to denote co-operative and supportive behaviour between two or more Plural noun. The term connotes a relationship which involves mutual knowledge, esteem, and Verb ending in ing. Friends will welcome each other's Plural noun and exhibit loyalty towards each other, often to the point of altruism. Their tastes will usually be similar and may converge, and they will share Adjective activities. They will also engage in mutually helping behavior, such as exchange of advice and the sharing of Plural noun. A friend is someone who may often demonstrate reciprocating and reflective behaviors. Yet for many, friendship is nothing more than the trust that someone or something will not Verb them. Value that is found in friendships is often the result of a friend demonstrating on a consistent basis:

- the tendency to desire what is best for the other

- sympathy and empathy

- honesty, perhaps in situations where it may be difficult for others to Verb the Noun

- mutual

Verb ending in ing

Friendship is considered one of the central human experiences, and has been sanctified by all major religions.

The Epic of _____ a Babylonian poem that is among the earliest known literary works in history, chronicles in great depth the friendship between _____ and _____. The Greco-Roman had
, as a paramount example, the friendship of Orestes and Pylades. The Abrahamic faiths have the story of _____ and _____.