A Case of More Beer

A herd of _____ can move only as fast as the slowest _____ and when the herd is _____ it is the slowest and _____ ones at the back that are _____ first. This _____ selection is good for the herd as a whole, because the general speed and health of the _____ group keeps improving by the regular culling of the _____ members.

In much the same way the human _____ can only operate as fast as the slowest _____ cells. Excessive intake of alcohol, we all know, kills off _____ cells, but naturally it attacks the slowest and weakest _____ cells first.

In this way, regular consumption of beer eliminates the weaker _____ cells, constantly making the _____ a faster and more efficient machine.
