The Climb

I can Almost see It that Dream I'm Dreaming But There's A Adjective Inside My Noun Saying

You'll never reach it Every step I'm taking every move I make feels lost with no direction my faith is shaking but I gotta keep trying gotta keep my head held high cause there's always going to be another mountain I'm always gonna wanna make it move always going to be an uphill battle sometimes you're gonna have to lose aint about how fast I get there aint about what's waiting on the other side is the climb
