Driving while Texting

Car wrecks have already been _____ by the _____ increase in cell phone use that occurred in the 1990s. People who use cell phones while driving are more _____ than people who talk to a front side _____. Another problem with cell phones is a fairly new addiction: texting, no matter where one is. In the 2000s, plenty of people are texting while they are driving. This recent media trend has created as many or more traffic _____ than _____ cell phones. Unlike _____ held cell phones, text users in general must take their _____ off the road for seconds at a time or maybe just a _____. That split second decision is putting more and more people in danger of _____ collisions every day.

Henceforth, I propose that the state of Oklahoma outlaw _____ cell phones and text _____ _____ while driving. It is a _____ risk for the one driving and others sharing the
_____. The state of Oklahoma should have the right to instate this _____ on the grounds that the _____ of others is compromised for the short-term gain of a single _____ of society.
