David & Nicole

Once there were 2 people named           Your name           &;           Your crush's name          . They met in           After school activity           on           Month           14,           Year          . They started           Verb ending in ing          . The next week your name           fell in love with           your crush's name           but he didn't tell her. On           Month           21, Year                     your crush's name           fell in love with           your name           but she didn't tell him. In the middle of Month                     Year                     your name                     Past tense verb           to           Verb                     Event          . your crush's name           didn't pay too much attention to it but when he tried again in early           month Year           she           Past tense verb           to do something about it. He was           Verb ending in ing           to become a Noun           of           Noun           which is           Adjective           to do because           Street plus 's           a 1- way Location           &; people go           Adjective           so you can't get           Verb                     Preposition          . She threatened to give him a lecture &; he went to the other side of the           Location          . At least he was safe. He wispered something to a friend of           Plural noun           who then blurted out "he likes you.";           your crush's name           was Adjective           to hear that but then           your name           made a fist &; hit the kid. Soon it was           Month           10, Year          . That would be the last time           your crush's name           would see           your name          . The next week a imposter came &; he was mean. When it was time to go home           your crush's name           cried. She           Past tense verb           every day. In           Year           the imposter left town. Soon the real           your name           came back &; they           Past tense verb                     Adjective           to see each other. They           Verb           then           Verb           then she moved in with him. After all her stuff was there they           Verb          . When they were old enough they got Past tense verb           &; went on a honeymoon to           Location          . They had           Number           kids who they named

_____Name_____&; _____Name_____. All of them are living _____Adverb_____ever after. The end.
