My Scary Story

It was a _____Adjective_____and _____Adjective_____night, about a month ago in the woods at my grandfathers house. I was out there walking by myself, when I realized that someone was watching me. You have probably had that experience before. I felt _____Adjective_____ and I knew that soon I would have to do something about it. My friend _____First name_____had called me the previous day, and told me all about Evan's problem with that stranger in town, and I was a little worried about him. Then, all of a sudden, I saw off in the distance what I realized was a huge masked man with a _____Weapon_____ and right then I wet my pants! I remembered what my _____Subject_____teacher had told me about a situation like this. It was very important that I not panic. Very _____Adverb_____ I said a little prayer to myself and ran the opposite way that the masked man was in. Before I knew it, I was in the hospital, and I got surgery on my _____Body part_____and on my _____Body part_____. So you see , I really almost died, and I decided I had to tell you all about that story.
