A Dog Named Bo

Once there was a dog named Bo. He was a Adjective dog that lived in Location. He had funny friends, too! His friend's names were First name First name and First name. Together, the 4 dogs liked to do many activities. Their favourite was going to see movies.

One day, the 4 dogs were on their way to a movie when all of a sudden a giant dragon jumped out of a Location. The dogs were very Past tense verb. Bo was the toughest of the dogs so he ended up facing off with the dragon and defending his friends. It turned out that the dragon was Adverb and only wanted to have some friends too. He also loved going to the movies so he joined them that day.

From then on, the dogs had a new best friend named First name the Dragon.

THE END.
