The Dorians. (Done You Gone Did It? pt. 1)

The Dorains were the first to arrive. Father Jim, Job Mother Mary, Job Son David, electronic addict, and Daughter Mackenzie, who brought stuffed Animal named Toy's name. "I cannot wait for this Adjective gathering of friends and family!"; exclaimed Mary as she drove up the driveway. Jim nodded, and David did too. But David was listening to music, not his annoying Mother. Mackenzie fingered Same toy's name and made him look out the window. "It looks scary, Mommy. Same toy's name says so."; Mary turned and said, "It was your grandfather Nooma's house. We're trying to decide who inherits it. Us, Your cousins, your late grandmother's family, and your grandfathers good friends. Hopefully it will be ours."; Jim nodded and said "I spent my childhood here, I think you can too."; They parked and walked to the door. A truck was driving up. David glanced up and sighed. "Show-off Houston's are here.";
