Homer Tribute to Homer Today we honor the great _____bard, Homer, to whom we owe praise for the _____hours of _____reading for students over the centuries. Homer's date and place of birth are all unknown. Most classical scholars date his birth back to _____B.C. and his death to _____B.C. It is generally agreed upon that his place of birth was a Greek colony on the coast of Asia Minor. Some researchers say he was likely born in _____or ____or ______. Although it is disputed whether the legendary bard ever existed, those who believe in the blind poet say Homer wrote the two _____epics of Greek history: the Iliad and the Odyssey. Both epics are considered
