I'm Mad as Hell

I don't have to tell you things are bad. Everybody knows things are bad. It's a Noun. Everybody's out of work or scared of Verb ending in ing their job. The dollar buys a nickel's worth, Noun are going bust, shopkeepers keep a Noun under the Noun. Punks are Verb ending in ing wild in the street and there's nobody anywhere who seems to know what to do, and there's no end to it. We know the air is unfit to breathe and our Noun is unfit to eat, and we sit watching our Noun while some Adjective newscaster tells us that today we had Number homicides and sixty-three violent Plural noun as if that's the way it's supposed to be. We know things are bad - worse than bad. They're Adjective. It's like everything everywhere is going crazy, so we don't go out anymore. We Verb in the house, and slowly the world we are living in is getting smaller, and all we say is: 'Please, at least leave us alone in our living rooms. Let me have my Noun and my Noun and my steel-belted Noun and I won't say anything. Just leave us alone.' Well, I'm not gonna leave you alone. I want you to get MAD! I don't want you to Verb. I don't want you to riot - I don't want you to Verb to your congressman because I wouldn't know what to tell you to Verb. I don't know what to do about the depression and the inflation and the Proper noun and the crime in the street. All I know is that first you've got to get mad. You've got to say: 'I'm a Noun, god-dammit! My life has value!' So I want you to get up now. I want all of you to get up out of your Noun. I want you to get up right now and go to the window. Verb it, and stick your head out, and yell: 'I'm as mad as hell, and I'm not going to Verb this anymore!
